GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

A Turk Talks to the Tribune.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The Tribune has the following: Gen. Tinik, a Turkish inspector of arms in this country, in talking with a Tribune reporter about the war in the East, admitted that Mohammedans persecuted and wronged Christians years ago, but hostile feelings thus caused are gradually dying out and friendly and patriotic spirit was developing among the people of all creeds in Turkey. It was the policy of the Czar's government to keep alive old discord and in promising to Bulgarians and Greeks the lands of Mohammedans.

Germany's Interest in the War.

NEW YORK, May 12.—An interview with Geo. H. Boker, U. S. minister to Russia, says Germany is stronger than ever before, and better fitted for war, but this has been accomplished at the cost of prosperity. The object of the army is to so thoroughly crush France as to put out of the question for a generation or two. Germany could not carry out this plan while Russia been at peace, for Emperor Alexander, when the subject was broached to him, would not hear of it, and it is a fact that but for his kindness and decision, Germans would have declared war long ago. Hence, in order to officially dispose of Russia, Germany was obliged to wait until that power became involved with Turkey, and to effect this the German ambassador spared no pains by urging upon Russia the fact that Germany would not interfere with any programme the Czar would undertake to carry out.

Government Financial Operations.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Post says of the conference of Secretary Sherman with the bankers, who constitute the American representatives of the syndicate having charge of the four and a half per centum bonds negotiation: "Nothing was done to extend the contract which expires the 30th of June, or to modify it. The syndicate agreed to take two and a half millions of four and a half per centum bonds this month, and two and a half millions in June, and pay gold for the same, with the understanding that no five-twenty six per centum bonds shall be called in to affect this sale. The gold so received, it is said, will either be held for resumption purposes in 1879, or, if sold, legal tender notes. These notes will be held permanently for redemption of fractional currency. The fractional currency has in a good measure been removed, and will never come in for redemption, so that legal tenders taken in will, for all practical purposes, be the same as if canceled. It is understood that the Secretary contemplates the sale of 5,200,000 of four and one-half per centum bonds each month, and that as sold will be held, or, if it is sold for legal tender notes, that the latter will be held to meet fractional notes to the extent that such notes are outstanding.

Religious Intelligence.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—At the afternoon session of the Council, Reformed Episcopal Church delegates were appointed representatives to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, to the Convocation Free Church of England, to the General Synod of the Reformed Church, to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church South, to the M. E. Conference, Canada, and to the General M. E. Conference in the United States. The committee on constitution and canons presented a report suggesting certain alterations, and the words parish council were substituted for advisory committee.

The Telephone.

NEW YORK, May 12.—There was a private exhibition of Bell's Telephone at St. Dennis hotel, to-night, invited guests to-night. Conversation and music between New York and Brooklyn were perfectly transmitted, and created surprise and delight.

The Grasshopper Killers.

TOPEKA, May 11.—Professor Riley, chief of the National Entomological Commission, has just closed a three weeks examination in Iowa and Kansas of grasshoppers, and has started his report to the Governor. He says that throughout the largest part of Kansas the battle is already fought and won.

The N. Y. Times on Silver.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Times editorially says that it is reported Kelley hopes the silver Democrat men will have balance of power in the next house. He thinks a number in each party will refuse to go into caucuses unless they are prompted by candidates who are not in favor of contracting the legal currency. With all respect to Kelley he it said he is a monomaniac on this subject. He is bitterly disappointed; thinks the country gone to the dogs for refusing to remonetize silver. His judgment on every point connected with silver is worth but little, and yet it must not be forgotten that abler and less honest men are working in the same direction, and that owing to the peculiar position of parties in the House of Representatives the silver ring will be capable of making all the capital it can for its schemes. People who do not care to have the finances of the country meddled with by the introduction of silver as legal tender will do well to watch their representatives. The silver scheme in its essence is openly intended to give debtors a new chance to cheat creditors, and in this naked form it should be kept before the country.

More Trouble for Trenor W.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Two new suits have been brought against Trenor W. Park and partners in connection with the Emma Mine. First by Warren Hussey, of San Francisco, who came here as principal witness in the English suit. Hussey says developments of recent trial opened his eyes and he saw he had not been equitably dealt with. He charges that while Park was buying Emma Mine stock from him for $50 currency, he was selling it in London for $117 gold. This is one of several other interesting details are set forth in Hussey's complaint, which has been served on Park and his partners. The other suit is brought by Robert B. Chisholm on the same grounds, including interest accrued on accounts claimed. Plaintiffs each seek $5,600. Sam Lyon will soon bring action for millions against Park and his former attorney, Senator Stewart.

Notable Death.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., May 11.—Dr. Taylor Lewis of Union College died last night, aged seventy-six.

Tweed's Release Less Probable.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Express says the attorney-general had concluded that the statement of facts furnished by Tweed cannot be used in carrying on prosecutions against the ring thieves; that he has much information reserved which he refuses to disclose to save certain of his friends. The attorney-general has returned the papers to Tweed and has declined to release him.

Food Shipments.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Four steamships sail to-day and to-morrow for Europe will take nearly 100,000 bushels of grain, and the quantity of fresh beef will not be far short of 600,000 pounds, while of canned goods, pork, salt beef, bacon, cheese, butter, lard and other provisions, the aggregate is very large. So anxious have the British people become relative to these shipments of food that the three sighting of vessels so loaded at any point along their coast is made a subject of special telegram to the London newspapers.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Silver bars, 120½; greenbacks, 110 gold; silver coin, 5½ discount; gold opened 7½, declined to 7, advanced to 7½, closed 7⅛@7⅛; money, 1½@2; governments, strong; stocks, active and irregular; Western Union 65; Quicksilver, 14; Pacific Mail, 21; Mariposa, 3½; Wells Fargo, 83½; New York Central, 94; Erie 7; Panama, 95; Union Pacific, 67; bonds, 105; Central Pacific bonds, 108½.

No intelligence has been received in this city yet concerning the overdue steamships City of Brussels, of the Inman line, and the Schiedam, of the Anchor line.

A New Line of Steamships.

NEW YORK, May 12.—It is stated that the reason of Wm. H. Vanderbilt's trip to Europe is the establishment of a line of steamers between New York and Europe. The steamers are to be modeled after the White Star boats and at first will only carry freights and steerage passengers.

LOUISVILLE, May 12.—The Journal's Lexington special says both Tenbroeck and Aristides will probably appear there before the present meeting closes.

LEXINGTON, May 12.—The shooting tournament commenced to-day. Bogardus was absent but will appear Monday. C. T. Martin won the first match, breaking 3 out of 5 glass balls; also second, breaking 5 out of 5 balls. E. T. Meyer, of Chicago, won the third match, making 10 straight. The fourth match at pigeons, 3 out of 4, was won by Martin. The fifth match Martin broke 59 straight 30 and 70; Abe. Klemman won the pigeon matches and also 80 with glass balls 10 straight.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 12.—Gov. Hampton to-day submitted to the House of Representatives the communication from President Hayes, stating that the district attorney of South Carolina had been instructed to prepare for the trial of the cases of the Ellerton prisoners.

Religious Intelligence.

BALTIMORE, May 12.—At the convention of the Methodist church this morning there was appointed a conference committee to consider the business of the proposed reunion and consult with a similar committee to be appointed by the Methodist Protestant convention, and then adjourned till the afternoon.

At the Methodist Protestant convention the committee on credentials reported, and was unable to decide as to who was entitled to the vacant seat in North Carolina delegation. After an excited debate the motion to seat one Hunt, was defeated by a close vote. The motion to seat Harris was debated without decision. Adjourned till 6 P. M.

The Russian Fleet at New York.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Russian fleet is said to be under orders to sail; date of departure and destination unknown.

News of the City of Brussels.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The City of Brussels broke a shaft on the 23d ult. The City of Richmond, which arrived to-day, spoke her proceeding under sail on Tuesday last in lat. 49° 30', longitude 41° 13'; all well. She will probably arrive Thursday or Friday.

THE ROCKFORD DISASTER.

CHICAGO, May 12.—A special to the Evening Journal from Rockford says no bodies have been taken out since Warren was extricated last night. Chief Lukin and the fire department did efficient service and worked by relays all night. A donkey engine is expected hourly to lift the heavy blocks. Architect Gay came last night. The coroner's jury this morning viewed two additional bodies. They have taken no steps towards fixing the responsibility, but have sent to Chicago for two engineer experts, and secure the plans and specifications to hold until the examination was complete. They meet again at 4 this afternoon. Richardson has long been dissatisfied with the specifications for the roof and now blames himself for not throwing up the contract entirely. The feeling here is deep, but the general disposition is manifested to await investigation before passing judgment. A shock was felt in the building an hour before the fall, but had not caused any alarm.

Architect Gay, who designed the Rockford, Illinois, court house, which fell yesterday, left last night for Rockford in response to a telegram from officials there, and his statement cannot be obtained. The papers, however, are publishing accidents and mishaps to Chicago buildings of which Gay has been the architect, and they make a formidable list. Prominent architects express great doubts as to his fitness to make plans and specifications. The feeling both here and in Rockford seems to be that Contractor Richardson is comparatively blameless, he having at his own expense placed strong works in what he considered weak places and having pleaded with the building committee for the strongest material, but in vain.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The Times' Rockford special says: The immensity of the horror hourly grows upon the minds of our citizens, and the indignation increases to a torrent which will not be checked until the blood of the victims of yesterday's disaster is avenged by the punishment of those on whose head it rests. Workmen have labored steadily amid dangers since yesterday noon, but have made no headway since last night in uncovering bodies. Peck, one of the wounded, died this morning in indescribable agonies, and Harris has had his left leg amputated, and is doing well. Young Pipe was buried to day, and the funeral of Flannahan will take place from St. James Catholic church to-morrow. Other victims have been sent to Springfield for interment. The women have organized and are acting as angels of mercy to the wounded. Hollenbeck still lies beneath the ruins. He was much esteemed. Fred Haugh lies buried with him. An ugly rumor prevails to-night that Supervisor Fabrick is among the lost. Henry L. Gay arrived this morning, and has been busily engaged at the court house all day. He goes to Chicago to-night to procure his plans and specifications. He refused to make any statement, but said he courted searching investigation by the coroner's jury. He had not examined the cause. His friends say the projecting wall was built of brick, which is easily crushed under heavy weight, and not of mortar, which is vastly stouter. This was done in defiance of the specifications. Various reports of the causes are in circulation, and friends of either contractor and architect present the two sides, but the principal parties are very reticent. Hundreds of people have come in to witness the horrible sight to-day, and the streets are now thronged. The vicinity of the court house is black with curious and interested humanity, and telegraph offices are scenes of sorrow and romance. The negro Donnelly is the wonder of the town. He jumped one hundred and nineteen feet to avoid the fall, and struck all in a heap in a pile of ashes. Bystanders, supposing him killed, were amazed to see him get up, walk in a dazed sort of a way to a water trough, wash his face, and bind up a slight scalp wound. Edward Flannagan died in a like attempt to jump. All the wounded are reported as doing well. The engines ordered to assist in the unburying have not yet arrived. The memorial service to morrow evening will be most impressive. Subscriptions for the relatives of deceased persons are coming in rapidly. A man named Boardman is missing, and at a late hour to-night is believed to be beneath the ruins.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Sale of U. S. Bonds.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Secretary Sherman to-day telegraphed from New York to the Assistant Secretary that in addition to the $10,000,000 4 per cent. bonds taken on the 5th inst., to provide for a call of that date, he has sold, under redemption, to the syndicate, $5,000,000 of said bonds at par in gold coin, to be paid for during the months of May and June. The gold thus received will be sold for currency at the pleasure of the Secretary.

Specie Payment.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Secretary of the Treasury says he will go on with the sales of 4½ per cent. bonds for resumption purposes as provided for by law, and so hopes to be able to resume specie payments the first of January, 1879.

Naval Inspection.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Secretary Thompson, accompanied by several heads of bureaus of the Navy Department left this afternoon for Norfolk to examine the condition of the navy yard at that place.

Fred Opened His Mouth and Put his Foot in it.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Times' Washington special says: Douglass' lecture on Washington is likely to give him considerable annoyance. Already an earnest movement has been inaugurated against him. To-day a petition was started to secure his removal from the marshalship of this district. In a short time the signatures of about 100 business men and other residents were obtained. Feeling against him in consequence of his lecture is very strong and unanimous, men of all parties uniting in petitioning the President for his removal. Columbus Alexander, a leading Democrat and one of the wealthiest men of Washington, who is one of the marshal's sureties, expressed the determination to go into court to-morrow and withdraw from his bond. All local papers comment on Douglass' utterances and advocate his removal. A committee of citizens will call upon the President and present a petition for his removal. Should his present bondsmen retire, Douglass may find it difficult in the present state of popular feeling to obtain any one in Washington to take their places.

The Balance of Trade.

WASHINGTON (D. C.), May 12.—Lucien J. Barnes, of the Bureau of Statistics, recently prepared tables showing the movement of bullion, specie and merchandise between the United States and foreign countries for a series of years. At no former period has the foreign commerce of this country been in such a healthy and favorable condition as for the fiscal year ending June, 1876. The balance in trade and merchandise was in favor of the United States to the amount of nearly eighty millions specie value. This amount has been nearly doubled during the three quarters of the present year. If the present very flattering prospects are fulfilled, for the remainder of the present fiscal year, Barnes thinks the balance of trade in merchandise will not be short of two hundred millions dollars in specie value in favor of the United States, and that we will have received from abroad probably from twenty to fifty millions dollars in specie.

May and December.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—It is stated that ex-Governor Stockdale, of Texas, is soon to marry a daughter of Representative Schleicher of that State. He is 60 and she 17.

The Safe Burglary Cases.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Thomas P. Somerville, the New York lawyer, tried for complicity in the safe burglary conspiracy, has sent a letter to the United States district attorney, giving details to the whole affair. He says several who paid all the expenses of the job, and for whose benefit it was planned, have not suffered so much as they should, and he desired to unbosom himself as much as possible. His statement will be used in the case to be tried.

Grant's Swords.

Grant to-day withdrew from the treasury department several valuable swords, held for him in the vaults for safe keeping. They were forwarded to Philadelphia.

Cattle Plague Investigations.

Consular officers in Europe have been instructed to procure all practicable information in reference to the foot and mouth disease and rinderpest, and ascertain whether those diseases are likely to be communicated to live cattle by the importation of dried and salted hides.

Cadets Appointed.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The President has appointed the following cadets midshipmen: Joseph G. Woodward, son of Surgeon J. J. Woodward, U. S. A.; Marcus Duvall, son of Medical Director Duvall, U. S. N.

Free Ports in China.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Department of State is to-day in receipt of information from Minister at Pekin that the Chinese government had given notice that it would, on the 1st of April, open to foreign trade the additional ports of Ichans, Wuhun, Wenchoo and Pakhoy.

Spirited Contest in Prospect.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The Journal's Washington special says: Members of the whiskey ring have abandoned the attempt to secure immunity from civil prosecution and assert that they will fight the government to the bitter end. This suits the prosecution who are confident of success in all the cases.

Douglass' Defense.

Fred Douglass publishes a card saying the attack upon him on account of remarks made by him in Baltimore are both malicious and silly. Washington is a great city, not a village, nor a hamlet. It is the capital of a great nation, and the manner and habits of its various classes are proper subjects for presentation and criticism, and therefore he is very much mistaken if this great city can be thrown into a tempest of passion by any humorous reflections he may take the liberty to utter.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Times' Washington special says: Fred Douglass says his meaning was perverted by publishing one-sided, isolated passages from his lecture without their qualifying connections. The lecture occupied an hour and a half, and the brief condensation made by the Baltimore papers does him great injustice. Doug ass says the same lecture was delivered here in November, 1875, reported in full in one of the morning papers and noticed with approval in editorials. Douglass quotes several paragraphs from the Baltimore lecture in which it was published, and by the people spoken of in the highest terms of praise. In the meantime, the movement to secure Douglass' removal from the marshalship continues, and it is expected over 20,000 signatures to the petition will be obtained by to-morrow. Jno. F. Cook, a colored man and now receiver of taxes for this district, will be urged to succeed Douglass by those now operating against him. It is said Columbia Alexander, Douglass' principal bondsman, is considerably mollified by the explanation and will remain on his bond.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

Debate by the English Commons.

LONDON, May 11.—In the House of Commons debate on the Eastern question was resumed.

Bourke said Gladstone's attack on the government was unjustifiable. The government wish to main ain strict neutrality and cannot countenance views of extremists about dismemberment and the Turkish policy of coercion. There was slight reason to suppose Austria and Germany would join in such an undertaking. Bourke denied England had destroyed European concert.

Mr. Gascher, liberal, thought the debate had dissipated many delusions and would be an ample warning to the Turkish government. Mr. Cross' speech on Monday had relieved the anxiety of the public mind by showing that the government was not so strongly in favor of Turkey as has been suspected he (Gaschen) noticed that Cross, when enumerating the British interests which were to be protected, did not mention as one of them the independence and integrity of the Ottoman empire of Europe. The whole of Europe would note this omission of Turkey, and if the Turks could be thoroughly persuaded that in the opinion of the British government, Ottoman integrity and independence was no longer a British interest, it would be a more useful result of debate. It was also admitted in a great measure that we had obligations to the Christians in Turkey. Turkey was no longer a favorite ally, but a deserted defender. Last autumn the obligation had changed England's traditional policy. It was clear that England had thought at one time of interfering if Turkey was attacked. It was satisfactory to her to speak, and after having spoken, to urge absolute neutrality. He hoped the government would use all interference to that end, and that the House would press and enforce the same idea of coercion as it should be, but by the concerted action of all Europe. They must consider what they would have to do when they had to deal with Russia, as all the powers must sooner or later. If she was victorious, would they be in a worse position if they obtained the concerted action of Europe beforehand. The government's diplomacy, in respect to the protocol gave Russia a possession she ought never to have gained. Although it is believed Russia could not alter her declaration and act otherwise, he hoped the government would abide by Cross' declaration and not be actuated by unworthy jealousy because Russia anticipated them in the discharge of her duty. The debate was adjourned until Monday.

The War Feeling in England.

LONDON, May 12.—The Eastern war continues the leading theme. The marked division of English sentiment thereon both among the people and cabinet continues. Nevertheless, judicious leaders of opinion on both sides deny that British military preparations mean more than intended readiness for possible eventualities or significant warning to Russia that it is not safe to push her schemes too far. While the public mind is in a condition to take a panic at the actual declaration of war, because of its disastrous effects upon British commercial and industrial interests, it views with complacency such preparations for war as may tend to avert its necessity. Another theory is generally discussed, that Lord Beaconsfield really means war and deliberately fomented that Eastern broil instead of trying to placate it in anticipation that Russia and Turkey, becoming exhausted in the pending struggle, will afford England an opportunity to secure Constantinople and control of the Bosphrus, thus strengthening the British hold upon India by effectually commanding its approaches from the rear. Evidences accumulate confirming the old rumor that Russia, anticipating these eventualities, actually prepared for them by the arrangement of direct understandings if not treaties with Austria, Germany and Italy which command their sympathy and acquiescence in the Czar's designs. In this connection their calm indifference is significantly contrasted with England's excitement over the armed struggle. There seems little room to doubt that the continental powers have agreed in advance how their respective boundaries shall be rearranged as a result of Russia's success. In this connection also is remarked the fact that the Russian declaration of war is silent on the question of territorial aggrandizements and avoids the least words crammeling the Czar's future policy. British statesmen who oppose intervention besides urging these evidences that England would have no ally but Turkey, say privately that pride forbids their uttering publicly that England's experience in the Crimean war presages her certain defeat if she intervenes under such conditions. In the Crimea, with France and Sardinia for allies, only one Russian fortress was captured after a long siege at an immense loss, and that on a frontier which was not then connected with railroads with the heads of the Empire. Now, however, the Russian railroad system is so perfected that she can rapidly concentrate at any point where England could strike with forces overwhelmingly greater than England could place in the field.

Although no great battle has yet been fought, all intelligent observers can see that Russia has achieved marked success in her armed advance through a difficult country, and that her military dispositions thus far are good augurs for final success.

Revolt at Jassy—The Jews Warned.

VIENNA, May 11.—We hear from Jassy that a revolt has broken out in the Crimea.

The Tartars have occupied the road from Simferopol.

The Jews in Jassy have been warned that if they continue prayers in their synagogues for the success of the Turks they will be severely punished.

Warlike.

LONDON, May 11.—The Standard learns that a contractor has been ordered to supply two thousand horse stalls with fittings for setting up on board hired transports.

Ambulance wagons of the newest pattern are leaving for Geneva Cross, at Woolwich arsenal, awaiting shipment to Portsmouth and elsewhere.

Arms at Athens.

A despatch from Athens reports twenty thousand Enfield and twenty-five thousand Springfield rifles with ammunition arrived there for the National Defense Committee.

Insufficient Blockade

The Russian telegraphic agency announces that the Russian Minister of Marine declared the Turkish blockade of the Black Sea insufficient.

General War Notes.

LONDON, May 12.—Prince Charles received a communication from Transvia, the contents of which are not allowed to transpire. It is reported that the Roumanian government is considerably perplexed.

There is uneasiness in Constantinople lest the Russian Admiral Bukakoff who is now at Palamero, should endeavor to intercept the Egyptian transports.

LONDON, May 12.—There is nothing in Russian movements, so far, to indicate where they will attempt to cross the Danube. Probably one crossing will be effected between Iberia and Ismiel.

A dispatch from Bucharest remarks that there is a heavy movement of Russian troops to the westward of Ibrimiel, with the purpose of occupying a great part or the whole of the Roumanian bank of the Danube. This will prove perplexing to the Turks, as they can not oppose the unequal force at all points, and they must leave some places to sudden concentration of Russians for passage of the river.

The movement of Turkish troops in Dobrudsche is suggestive of an intention of refusing in force there to the second line of defense, leaving the crossing of the Danube comparatively unopposed.

A Bucharest correspondent also reports the sinking of the Turkish Monitor, commanded by Hassan Bey. A shell entered her and she was blown up and sank immediately with her crew of 300. Dispatches do not report whether any one aboard was saved.

In the Rouman an chamber a resolution was passed by a vote of 59 to 27, declaring that as Turkey has severed all bonds between herself and Roumania by unprovoked outrages along the Danube, the ministry shall be empowered to take any steps deemed necessary. It is not difficult to prophecy what the resulting decision of the ministry will be.

Russians have constructed a very ingenious pontoon bridge in the mouth of the Sereth which will be towed in the Danube and anchored there, almost ready for the immediate passage of troops.

A Vienna dispatch says the Lemberg and Chamonitz Railway Co. received orders to send no more rolling stock into Roumania, and to withdraw immediately what is already there.

A Belgrade special states that the Russian diplomatic agent left Belgrade in consequence of orders from Gortschakoff.

A Vienna correspondent says there is a rumor that Austria will enforce if Roumania declares her independence unfounded. What has probably given rise to the rumors is the fact that the Austrian government gave notice that it would oppose Russia's project of transferring hostilities to Lesser Wallachia which was on the point of being accomplished.

A special from Kreshenoff says the march of the Russian army in Roumania is now so far advanced that Grand Duke Nicholas and his general staff will go there immediately. According to advices from Pastiang, Russia intends sending a corps of observation to the frontier of Bukeowina.

A Belgrade dispatch says the Russian Panslavic committee declined to give any more help to Bosnian insurgents, and advised them to send a deputation to Vienna and beg for the occupation of Bosnia by Austrian troops. It is stated that the Turks at Levino, after a serious fight, dispersed eight bands of insurgents.

Troops are being sent every day to Fatscha, Mostar and Travenink. There is much talk about the change of ministry at Belgrade and of Marilovich forming the cabinet. M. Ristics declined to treat with the Sclavic committee here. Already several thousand Mohammedan refugees, mostly women and children from Pashalis of Widdin, have arrived at Negatin and neighborhood, and more are coming daily.

KISCHINEFF, May 11.—It is officially confirmed that the Russians sank a large Turkish monitor on the Danube yesterday. A shell penetrated the boiler of the monitor, resulting in an explosion, which fired the magazine. The monitor sank, and the entire crew and two hundred soldiers perished.

LONDON, May 12.—A Russian official dispatch from Tiflis says the Russians occupied Dyadan unopposed on the 8th.

News from Kars announces the Russians are encamped three hours' march from Lonbantan and Yaghnila.

Outpost skirmishes since the 1st of May. Communication between Kars and Erzeroum is infrequent and difficult. Dearness and scarcity of provisions increase, and Russians find great difficulties in procuring supplies. An English squadron leaves Suda Bay for Port Saida to-morrow. The Christ an persuasion of Crete is greatly excited.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Batoum, dated Thursday evening, says no serious engagement has taken place since the battle at Tehurukschee, but every day Bashi Bazouk riflemen fire upon the Russian outskirts, inflicting considerable loss.

Nicsic is now sufficiently provisioned for six months.

The Troubled Turks.

VIENNA, May 12.—A correspondent of the Daily News says: I have read a letter from a person for some years in close connection with Turkish government circles. The letter says the Grand Vizier is losing his head, and Savfet Pasha is at a loss what to do. There are frequent councils at which already hints are thrown out as to whether it would not be better to treat with the Russians before they cross the Danube.

Protest against Roumania Independence.

PARIS, May 12.—The Memorial Diplomatique says the British and Austrian cabinets are agreed on terms of protest to be sent to the Russian government against any attempt at a declaration of independence by Roumania. The same paper states that the Bey of Tunis, summoned by the Sultan to send a contingent, excused himself on the score of financial inability, but his subjects may join the Turks as volunteers.

Both Sides Getting Ready for a Great Battle.

LONDON, May 12.—A Russian dispatch of Thursday says the preparation on both sides for action on the Danube is nearly ready. The Russians evidently intend to open fire on Turkish positions along the whole line, and under cover of an overwhelming artillery fire attempt to cross the river at several points simultaneously. Notice has just been given that the Russian batteries at Giurgevo may begin firing on this town and fortress at any moment. For the last two days Russians have been establishing batteries on the left bank, from which bombardment can be directed on the forts and town of Rutschuk and station of Varna. It is believed the batteries will open fire to-morrow. Turkish fortresses on the Danube are in admirable order and are well prepared to withstand the attack.

A Battle—Turks Victorious.

LONDON, May 12.—An official Constantinople dispatch says: The Russians having attacked on Friday, in great forces, the position occupied by the vanguard of the Turks' auxiliary troops in the vicinity of Batoum an engagement ensued, lasting 8½ hours, resulting in complete route of the Russians, who lost 3,000. The Turkish loss is considerable.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Wrecked Dakota.

LONDON, May 11.—Lloyds has intelligence that Capt. Chisholm, who has been inspecting the Dakota, reports there is no chance of saving the ship. The fore foot is gone, the plating supposed to be badly ripped, and she is filled with water.

Pilgrims to Rome.

ROME, May 11.—To-day the Pope received the pilgrims from Canada and Rhode Island, headed by the Bishop of Sherbrook and Vicar General Bousque. The bishop delivered an address and the Pope replied. The pilgrims presented a considerable sum of money.

Bank of England.

Business Failure.

The failure of a great hardware firm in Birmingham is imminent. Liabilities estimated at $1,000,000.

Business Failure.

BIRMINGHAM, May 12.—Wm. Blews & Sons, brass founders, have failed. Liabilities, £60,000.

The Disturbing Element in the French Assembly.

PARIS, May 12.—In consequence of the systematic disturbances in the Chamber of Deputies by some Bonapartists, in order to discredit the parliamentary government, Grevey himself threatened to resign the presidency, unless his hands are strengthened. Lebicond, Moderate Republican, to-day (Friday), pursuant to a resolution of the entire Left, moved an alteration in the standing orders, restoring the rules of '49, which gave the president power to suspend their right to speak and fine them, with cost of placarding votes of censure.

The Shipbuilders' Lockout.

GLASGOW, May 12.—The shipbuilders lockout will affect 25,000 to 30,000.

Franco-German Amenities.

LONDON, May 12.—A Berlin dispatch to the Post says Emperor William since his return from Alsace, has received the French ambassador and commissioned him to forward a message expressive of the Emperor's good wishes for France to President McMahon. The Emperor's reception of the ambassador was very friendly.

A TIMELY LESSON.

The masses of mankind are so made up that much of the dear-bought experience of one generation is lost to another. Stocks, representing the supposed capital of great private enterprises, are, in many cases, most unsubstantial forms of wealth; and on this very point hard experience has taught severe lessons over and over again. Eager hope holds out prospect of large gains; then the stocks go upon the market, not for what profits may be soberly supposed to be in the particular scheme, but for the expectation of increased nominal values, almost or altogether based on the general credulity. Under a movement like this inflated stocks are the stuff that dreams are made of. Such is the history of the celebrated South Sea scheme, of John Law's Mississippi or West India enterprise, and of the bonanza speculation in the Nevada mines. The actual losses during the past year on mining stocks manipulated in San Francisco reach an appalling figure; but great as is the aggregate, it is small indeed when compared with the losses which have followed the shrinkage of railway stocks in the New York market. Roads supposed to be most solid have suffered with the weaker sort, and all or nearly all have gone down together. Such roads as the Pennsylvania and New York Central, with the largest traffic of any roads in America, have not been exempt from the general disaster. Not only capitalists, who supposed they were buying safe stocks for long investment, but people of small means, who had hoarded slow gains, and would trust only the most substantial and unquestioned security, have been very generally worsted. Statistics of twenty-eight roads are given, from which it appears that the aggregate decline of the value of their stocks for the year ending March 31st, was $263,971,701,—and for three weeks ending April 21st, a further decline of $46,901,923. Many of those were reckoned to be among the best roads of the country. In the case of many others, the ruin is total, since it does not seem possible to realize anything whatever out of the shares.

It is stated roundly that a thousand millions of values are thus obliterated. So it will seem to those whose money is swallowed up in this vortex, beyond all hope of recovery. But the values thus obliterated were not real values. In many cases they were as imaginary as Overman shares on the Comstock, selling four or five months ago for $120, and now at five or six. On such occasions legitimate enterprises always suffer with those based merely on speculation. Public confidence, for the purposes of such investments, is a foundation as giddy and unsure as the popular breath for a public reputation. To credulity there is a natural limit. By the laws of thought and human nature the reaction from excessive credulity passes over to the extreme of scepticism. Few indeed can preserve stability of mind amid these fluctuations. The mass of investors, or rather of adventurers, is hopelessly ruined, and a few who keep cool, have information that enables them to comprehend the situation and audacity enough to manage it for their advantage, make enormous gains. In such a "deal" the ordinary stockholder has no chance whatever. The traveler who meets the highwayman is not so helpless a victim. But there is an impropriety and injustice in calling it robbery, as many are disposed to do. Some cases there are in which stocks are a legitimate investment, or would be with honest management, but the buyer is swindled by the practices of those in control of the business. In many cases, however, and no doubt in a majority of them in which money is lost, it is the victim's own fault. He is gambling simply, and ought to know that he is taking immense odds. Why should he set up a claim for sympathy, and denounce as robbers those with whom he has dealt in the hope of beating them and making great gains? The American people now will take some lessons in soberness. It will do them good, at least for a generation. It is fortunate beyond question for Oregon that no inflation based on the reported richness of mines here and there throughout the State, can be produced. We have mines, but it is better to go slow. Their development will come as a result of legitimate enterprise, and any other method would be a curse. Experience with the mines of Nevada has at least given timely emphasis to this lesson.

POLITICAL SIGNS.

Nothing could be more mischievous to the country than the reopening of the old discussion relative to the amendments of the national constitution and the propriety and validity of the legislation adopted to enforce them. Yet there is reason to fear this very thing will be forced by the party which resisted at every step the changes in the fundamental law, and has never given them its sincere acquiescence. Such a course will reawaken an old party strife that ought never to be renewed, and perpetuate party divisions by sectional lines. For the Northern States will stand by these amendments and the laws enacted to give them proper force; and on an appeal on such an issue, not one of the States that supported the cause of the Union during the war will fail to affirm the old position. Journals that assume to speak in the name of the Democratic party are trying to force an issue on a matter which will surely bring them to defeat. We have quoted already from the New York World on this proposition to nullify the amendments, and a Democratic paper of Oregon, under the direction of an ex-Confederate, echoes the same sentiment. It is declared the amendments were carried by force, and the consequence therefore is, that they are to be held as void; that the civil rights bills and the acts to enforce the citizen's right to vote are to be treated as null, and that the whole of the legislation to make the amendments effective is to be expunged from the statute-book. This is an issue that can easily be met, yet it is to be hoped that it will not be necessary to meet it. But the Memphis Appeal and other Southern papers of influence are joining in the cry of the reactionary organs of the North, and it is as well to watch the movement and be ready for it.

THE SOUTHERN SUBSIDY SCHEME.

By a class of Eastern journals which may be reckoned among the most conspicuous and influential, vigorous opposition is made to the proposition to grant government aid for the Texas Pacific railroad. Among these journals are the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune. The latter in an energetic way rejects the claim of the Southern States that this subsidy is necessary as a measure of "pacification." It goes on to show that the road will be quickly built without the aid of the government. The progress of the road which has already been pushed to the Colorado river, is an assurance of its continued advancement. While the Texas Pacific is preparing to make a raid for the subsidy, the Central Pacific of California is going on with this Southern road. The Tribune says:

> The scheme will present itself in the shape of a petition for a government guarantee of interest on bonds at a rate varying from $25,000 to $33,000 per mile for a trunk line and connections amounting to 2,305 miles of railway. Past experience warrants the conclusion that this will be no more nor less than an assumption by the government of the principal and interest on the sum which is to be expended in the Credit-Mobilier system of construction, with allowances for bribery and other incidental expenditures and profits.
> Now, says the Tribune, let the Government hold its hand off. Once assured that the Texas Pacific can get no subsidy, its managers will arrange with the Central Pacific people to complete the road already far advanced. This looks very plausible. In such a case the road will be built as cheaply as possible, and will be operated on the basis of its actual cost. This will be a great advantage. Looking at it also as affecting the interests of the Northwest, it seems clear that the scheme ought not to succeed.

Good verses are always in demand. Every editor wants them. But there is nothing so bad as bad verses, and unfortunately there is nothing more abundant. Every journalist knows what it is to have his table loaded with "effusions" which would be a sin against the public to print. But somehow many persons who are unable to express scanty thoughts even in tolerable prose, attempt versification, and if they chance to produce anything that resembles rhyme, forthwith call it "poetry," and send it to the newspaper. Dryden's description of this sort of workman and his work is good enough to last always:

> He faggotted his notions as they fell,
> And if they rhymed and rattled, all was well.

Almost every poetical "phenomenon" of this description has an admiring circle of friends, and if the verses be rejected, they take offence. Good verses have very simple, and yet inimitable characteristics. They emanate only from a poetic, that is, from a constructive and an artistic mind. No labor will supply in any mind the essential qualities of poetry; no powers of imitation can produce anything that will engage and hold attention. Good poetry, says Milton, is "simple, sensuous, passionate;" a definition admirably comprehensive. To-day we print some verses which the readers may try by this definition. We are not singular in the opinion that their author has produced poems not equalled by any other writer of whom Oregon can boast. These last verses from his pen have merit that would do credit to a wide poetical reputation.

Replying to the demand of the Olympia Standard to know how the Federal office-holders there stand toward the administration, the Courier says their political opinions are independent of those of President Hayes; that they are not holding office to support the political views of the administration, but to perform their duties as required by law; and moreover—and here are the words with which the Courier essays to give point to the rejoinder—"a policy that receives such cordial approval from the bedrock Democrats and secessionists of the country does not need the endorsement of Republican officials." Under any other President than Hayes this would be "flat rebellion," and the Standard, which claims to be "the only administration organ in the Territory," might crack its whip with some effect about the ears of the office-holders. But Mr. Hayes has emancipated the office holder, and he deserves well for this, if there were nothing else to commend him.

The editor of the Mountaineer is in raptures over a visit to a wheat field of fifty acres on the high lands two miles from the Dalles, which is heading out and promises forty bushels to the acre. The land is just like all that high ridge land of the country east of the mountains, which people once thought would produce nothing. The paper above named says there are thousands of acres of just as good land to be had for the taking, within a few miles of the Dalles. It is thought singular that these lands have been neglected so long; but it is remembered by many that the first settlers of Illinois never dreamed that the prairies of that State could be cultivated. They settled in the timbered localities and made farms by clearing. Cultivation of the prairies was not attempted till a number of years afterwards.

It seems that notwithstanding the largely increased price exacted for catching fish this year the packers have hopes of making fair profit through the lucky accident of a decrease in the cost of tin plates and the fact that on contracts made so far they get about 15 cents per doz. more than last year.

The great apostle of the doctrine—"Go West"—though dead, yet speaketh. That advice he used to give is perceptibly increasing the emigration to Oregon. Those who come will soon be prosperous farmers. The industrious and frugal will easily get a start.

"INSIDELITY INCREASING."—Under this head the following paragraph appears in the San Francisco Chronicle of the 6th inst.:

> Mr. Roberts, who has been employed by the American Tract Society as a colporteur in Oregon during the past year, writes to the Messenger that infidelity in that section is greatly on the increase—that labor and conversations on Sunday are very general, and that in very many instances there is no desire to read religious works. He further states that the feeling against religion in the public schools is so strong that in some places where the name of God, Jesus Christ or religion is found in the school books, they are blotted out, and that there was so much of the infidel element in several places he visited that the people had let their Sunday school and prayer meetings go down, and even the stated preaching is enjoyed, lone infidel lecture, one Spiritualistic camp-meeting with a story about all the moral effect of one's preaching for a whole year. Such preaching must be very ordinary.

APPOINTED SPECIAL POLICEMAN.—As there has recently been some discussion on the question as to how and by whom Chief Lawrence received the appointment as a special policeman for the purpose of carrying into effect sections 241, 244 and 233, of the ordinances, we copy the following from the records of the police commissioners, being minutes of the meeting held on November 22, 1870, at which meeting there were present Commissioners Burk, Hayden and Hallock: "On motion, Charles Lawrence was appointed special policeman, to carry into effect the provisions of the city ordinances in relation to preventing animals from running at large, and licensing of dogs; and the chief was directed to issue such commission to him."

GENERAL SPRAGUE'S SUCCESSOR.—It is stated upon good authority that Mr. Black is to be the successor of General J. W. Sprague, in the position of whose resignation was made in the day's issue. A thousand exchange, in speaking of the appointment of Mr. Black, says: "Mr. Black, a practical and experienced railroad superintendent from one of the leading Eastern roads, is to be General Sprague's successor. We feel confident, however, that he may execute the duties of the position, but cannot surpass his predecessor in zeal, fidelity and ability, so far as the interests of the company are concerned, nor secure to himself more widely extended friendship and esteem among the business and general public."

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, May 13, 1877:

ALDEN BESSE.—An exchange says: "C. M. Noyes, master of the American bark Alden Besse, writes from Hongkong that the vessel has made another fine passage out, stopped at Honolulu one week and then went to his final destination, beating the best homeward sailing time of the other two vessels that have been here for Hongkong direct, by six days. The Alden Besse, with a full cargo of Chinese products, will be due about the 1st of June."

CAVED IN.—While some workmen were engaged in cutting away an embankment, about two miles out on the West Side road, last Saturday, the bank caved in, causing the steam paddy to topple over, resulting in doing some injury to the workmen, the extent of which we did not learn.

TO SAIL.—To-day the steamship George Elder will sail from San Francisco for Portland with freight and passengers.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT NEW MARKET THEATER.—This fashionable and popular place of amusement was well filled on Saturday afternoon, by ladies and children, on which occasion "Grand Duchess" was repeated. It is needless to say that the opera was rendered in a very satisfactory style, affording the audience much real gratification. In the evening Lecocq's brilliant and sparkling comic opera "Girofle-Girofla," attracted a full house. As a whole the cast has been heretofore published. Miss Winston, in the dual role of the Twin Sisters, succeeded remarkably well, singing and acting the part assigned with a degree of ease and coquetish vivacity as refreshing as it was gratifying. Mr. Tilla, as "Marasquin," the banker's son, sang with his accustomed freedom and acted his part capitally. "Moorsouk," a fiery, untamed barbarian, could not have found a fitter representative than in the person of Mr. Prince of Bassa, Mr. Ed. Farley. "Don Iago" was capitally personated by Mr. A. H. Bell. Miss Rose Chapelle, as "Pedro," was quite cunning and irresistible. The drunken scene between "Girofle" and "Pedro" was excessively comical, and elicited great merriment and applause.

By special request Bellini's beautiful opera, "La Sonnambula," will be repeated this evening with the same cast as on its initial presentation here.

To-morrow evening Gounod's grand masterpiece "Faust," will be rendered in English, with the following cast: "Marguerite," Miss Jennie Winston; "Faust," W. H. Tilla; "Mephistopheles," Edward Farley; "Valentin," A. H. Bell; "Siebel," Miss Chapelle; "Martha," Miss Lefevre.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR.

EAST PORTLAND, May 13, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In the Sunday Welcome of to-day appears an item on East Portland stating that an immigrant family had come down with the smallpox, and that the schools have been suspended in consequence. There is no foundation for the report. The family referred to was attended by Dr. Raffety, whose reputation is sufficient guaranty that if he should find a case of small pox or other contagious disease, in his practice, he would at once say so, the public of the danger. The Doctor states that there is no small pox in the family or anywhere else in the city that he has heard of, and as further proof of the unfounded rumor, will state that the schools have not been suspended at all. It would be a blessing to the community if those crazy newsmongers, who delight in spreading such rumors to the injury of the public peace, could be permanently confined in the asylum for the insane, where they belong.

Such preaching must be very dry, truly.

APPOINTED SPECIAL POLICEMAN.—As there has recently been some discussion of the question as to how and by whom Charles Lawrence received the appointment as a special policeman for the purpose of carrying into effect sections 241, 244 and 233, of the city ordinances, we copy the following from the records of the police commissioners, being the minutes of the meeting held on November 23, 1870, at which meeting there were present Commissioners Burk, Hayden and Chadwick: "On motion, Charles Lawrence was appointed special policeman, to carry into effect the provisions of the city ordinances in relation to preventing animals from running at large, and licensing of dogs; and the president was directed to issue such commission to him."

GENERAL SPRAGUE'S SUCCESSOR.—It is stated upon good authority that Mr. Black is to be the successor of General J. W. Sprague, mention of whose resignation was made in Saturday's issue. PICNICS.

RED MEN'S PICNIC.—One of the most successful picnics which has been held for years, took place last Saturday at Williamette Grove Park, a few miles above this city. It was Tammany Day, and its recurrence was duly celebrated by the members of the several "tribes" of the Improved Order of Red Men, of Portland. Brighter skies and more lovely weather could not have been desired for an excursion. During the early part of the week, the weather was showery and disagreeable, and it was thought that a postponement would be necessary. Friday morning, however, the clouds dispersed, and the glorious May sun shown down with unusual fervor, drying up the damp ground, and banishing the mists which had been enveloping for some days the verdant landscape. Saturday morning dawned without a single cloud to intercept old Sol's golden beams which poured down resplendently. Dame Nature was in her kindliest mood, and everything above and below seemed wearing a smile of gladness. To render the day more delightful, a cool and invigorating breeze swept up from the north.

Martial strains were heard at an early hour emanating from the vicinity of the wigwam on First street, between Washington and Stark streets. Soon after the members of the Order were seen issuing from their hall. Under the direction of the Chief Marshal, Mr. A. B. Hallock, the procession was formed, and, headed by the Northwestern Band, marched through a number of the principa. sreets. After parading through the city for some time, the procession took up the line of march for the foot of Alder street, where the steamer Ordway, and barge Monarch were moored, which were to convey the Red Men and their guests to the picnic grounds. The tribal parade was very good, the members clad in handsome regalia presenting a neat and imposing appearance.

Prior to the arrival of the procession, a continuous stream of men, women and children, attired in picnic costume, and bearing the indispensable lunch basket, began to pour in the direction of the boats, until several hundred were on board. About 2:30 o'clock the order to "cast off" was given, and amid the enlivening strains of the band, cheers, and the waving of handkerchiefs, the boats glided away from the wharf. The steamer and barge swung some distance down the stream, and, turning, steamed up the river. Half an hour's run brought the excursionists to the grove. Owing to the shortness of the distance and the brief time required to reach the grounds, only a few sets were danced on the way up. Debarking, the crowd entered the beautiful grove which stood immediately on the river bank. Mr. Kaiser, the person having charge of the ground, had made every preparation to receive the excursionists. A large platform had been laid, the grove trimmed, cleared up, and seats and tables provided. Very soon the crowds were scattered through the grove, walking, sitting or reclining on the fragrant grass under the refreshing shade. Many, whose appetites were sharpened by the early rice, spread their lunches on the tables or ground, and were soon discussing with evident gusto, cold chicken, sandwiches, boiled eggs, pickles, etc., to say nothing of the delicacies and pies which was the crowning feature of every well regulated lunch. Some who preferred dancing to eating, joined in the "mazy," and many merry feet were keeping time to the excellent music furnished by Parrish & Brouner's string band, and thus the time wore on pleasantly enough. Immediately on the arrival of the 2 o'clock boat, which brought a very large reinforcement of gay excursionists, the literary exercises took place.

Mr. A. B. Hallock, grand marshal, called the crowd to order and introduced the orator, Sydney Dell, Esq., who delivered a most excellent and appropriate address. He did not occupy more than ten minutes, but his address, brief as it was, was couched in language eloquent and fitting, and at its close was heartily applauded.

Lunching and dancing were indulged in with renewed relished at the conclusion of the literary exercises, until Mr. Geo. C. Sears, the master of ceremonies, announced that the advertised sports of the day would commence.

SPORTS.

The races consisted of single, double and four oared shells, beginning with the former, in which Geo. Wilson and Robert Austin entered for the prize—a pair of gold sleeve buttons. The distance was fully a mile. The men got away even and kept the pace to the turn pretty up to within one hundred and fifty yards of the starting point when Wilson, who seemed to have given out but was really reserving his strength, gave a spurt and came in fifty yards in advance. John Buchanan and Geo. Wilson in the Leonard and Irving Chase and Wm. Edwards in the Oxford started in the double scull contest. On the home stretch the Oxford crew ran on a snag, and this left the race to their competitors—though had no accident occurred, it was clearly evident Wilson and Buchanan would win. The distance was the same as in the previous race and the prizes were gold shirt studs to the winner. The four oared boats were the Cutty Sark, pulled by J. Buchanan, Geo. Wilson, Tony Dougherty and Tobt. Austin, and the Cressid, manned by J. O'dea, R. Jennings, Irving Chase and Alf. Wilkinson, Jas. Dougherty, coxswain. From the start the former crew had the best of the race, leading slightly and steering to best advantage, besides having the lightest boat and weights. The Cressid crew pushed them, however, coming home about two lengths behind. The winning crew were the favorites in the betting. The distance was the same as for races preceding. Prize, silver cup. Wilson, it will be observed, was in the winning boat each time. He comes from the "Smoky City," where they turn out the best scullers in the country.

Horace Gilliner won the foot race. Prize, an order for a hat.

Annie Hoffman won the ladies' race against Rose Smith, Matilda Scholand and Laura Ewing. Prize, gold ring.

A race between Annie Hoffman and Laura Ewing resulted in favor of the latter, she receiving a sum of money as a prize.

Ab. Martin won the sack race and a watch again. Kilbourn sold pools during the afternoon and many small bets were made on the races.

About half-past five o'clock the Ordway carried away at least a hundred persons home, returning to leave about seven o'clock for the last trip with those who desired to remain till the last moment. Dancing was resumed on the barge, but as the run was very brief very little was afforded. By eight o'clock the day's pleasure was at an end. No accidents, we are pleased to note, are to be reported.

Cheerfulness the Offspring of Health.

That equable state of mind which is unruffled by trifling incidents, and looks on the sunny side of things in general, is the result of a healthful state of the brain and stomach. The dyspeptic and nervous invalid may—although this is rare indeed—feign cheerfulness and bear the harassing symptoms which persecute him with an assumption of heroic indifference, but in reality he is the victim of despondency. To experience genuine cheerfulness of mind, the stomach must recover its lost tone, the thinking organ its normal quietude. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best remedy for mental depression, since they overcome the nervous debility and indigestion which originate and foster it. Persons suffering from infirmities peculiarly incident to the decline of life, ladies in delicate health, and convalescents, derive solace and vigor from its use. Drive away the blues and revive the drooping energies with this grand stimulative tonic.

Good Advice.

Now is the time of year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, etc. Every family should have a bottle of ROSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Don't allow for one moment that cough to take hold of your child, your family or yourself. Consumption, Asthma, Pneumonia, Croup, Hemorrhages and other fatal diseases may set in. Although it is true GERMAN SYRUP is curing thousands of these dreaded diseases, yet it is much better to have it at hand when three doses will cure you. One bottle will last your whole family a winter and keep you safe from danger. If you are consumptive, do not rest until you have tried this remedy. Sample bottles 10 cents; regular size 75 cents. WONDERFUL SUCCESS OF

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts on the Sound to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, Tremont House, Seattle—For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I can now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish. JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat, behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus: that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer; also the diseased portion of bone and paracutory gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

THOMAS D. MURPHY.

Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured, and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me none labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Your's Truly, JOHN BALLARD,

Employed at Colman's Saw Mill.

[I will not publish any cures performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties.]

The Oregonian

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 14, 1877.

For the Oregonian

THE CROWNING OF THE SLAIN

I.

Again, in the month of beauty, the year
When the blush of the rose is born,
In the kiss which the earth at spring
Receives on the bridal morn,
We think of the heroes that slumber,
Away from the light of the sun,
Where the banners of forests are waving,
And the musical rivers run.

II.

The white tented mists in the valley,
Pass dreamily on at dawn,
And the rustling of feet in the greenwood
Is made by the rabbit and fawn
It is only the glint of a plowshare,
As it turns in your distant field,
And never the bayonet-glimmer
By a wheeling rank revealed.

III.

The days, among pearls and lilies,
Awake with a smile of peace,
And pass—reclining at sunset
On a glory of golden fleece;
But never a war drum startles,
And never the cannon roar—
Nor the angel of battle passes
With brows that are red with gore

IV.

The flowers have come, in a splendor
Of color and perfect perfume,
The birds build again in their branches,
And the honey-bee rifles the bloom.
The loving and loved, in the gloaming,
And, oft, by the silvery beam,
Are plucking the roses of Eden,
And dreaming the beautiful dream

V.

But the strong hands folded from battle
Will never more toil nor caress—
The roses return, but the soldier
Sleeps on in his patriot dress.
His name and his deeds are forgotten,
His sword in its scabbard will rust,
But the sunshine is brighter above him,
And the olive will spring from his dust.

VI.

Ah, God! in our banners of crimson,
How cling the crape-shadows of grief—
How close to the palm and the laurel
Is the funeral cypress leaf—
And 'tis well that we cherish our martyrs—
Else the triumph might seem too dear
That gave back a country unbroken,
But left us no heart for a tear

VII.

And so, in the month of beauty,
When the sea and the sky are blue,
And we love with a love more tender,
And are true with a heart more true—
Let us gather the flowers in clusters,
And weave them in chaplets fair,
And, wherever, a soldier slumbers,
To his low grave side repair.

VIII.

For this is the month of beauty,
When the sea and the sky are true—
A time to be tenderly thoughtful
Of those that have worn the blue,
And who sleep away from the sunshine
In their low-and lonesome graves,
While ever, on land and ocean,
The dauntless banner waves.

IX.

And what shall we bring, but flowers,
To hallow the heroes' sleep—
These gifts of the dew and the daylight
That ever memorial keep
Of the spirit immortal—and ever
In bursting the mold of death
Renew the perishing garlands
On the shadowy brow of Faith!

SAM. L. SIMPSON.

All persons who wish to join the party that will ascend Mount Hood on the 4th of July, to give an illumination that night, are requested to meet at Summit Prairie, near the base of the mountain, July 2d. The party from Dalles and Tygh valley will be on hand.

Jacksonville Sentinel.—Capt. Caton informs us that the miners now engaged in working the Beaver creek cinnabar mines have lately made another strike of a ledge about two feet in width and bearing ore as rich as any yet taken from the mine. They are meeting with splendid success and all parties are jubilant.

Two boys named Cooper, living in Yamhill, got full of fighting whisky at Amity, and on their way home had a tumble in the wagon together. A man met them who tried to make peace, but one of them stabbed him several times with a clasp-knife. The wounds are not dangerous, but the boys will be prosecuted.

From the Astorian. Hans Anderson of Mishawaka, one of the pioneers of the Nehalem valley, informs us that when that section has 1,000 enterprising families, more available land for another 1,000 families will be seen, than the few now see, Like Tillamook, the more settlers there are, the more land will be found.

The necessary papers, says the Plaindealer incorporating the Myrtle Creek Farmer's and Mechanic's Mercantile Association, were filed in the Secretary of State's office on the 8th inst. The incorporators number some ten or twelve of the most substantial farmers and business men of Myrtle creek. The capital stock is valued at $8,000 in shares of $20 each.

A Presbyterian Church was organized at upper Astoria, by Rev. A. L. Lindsley, D D, on Saturday May 5th, 1877, consisting of nine teen members. Title of the church "The First Presbyterian Church of Astoria," under the care of the Presbytery of Oregon in connection with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. Two ruling elders were elected, viz. T. P. Powers and W. H. Gray. Three trustees were also elected, viz. T. P. Powers, C. Leinenweber and W. H. Gray.

Pinney's Demurrer.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Geo M Pinney to-day, by counsel, filed a demurrer to the indictment charging him with forgery of two certificates, on the grounds first, that the indictment was not drawn in conformity to the provisions of the code, 2d, that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute the crime of forgery, as the instrument which he is charged with forging is null and void in law, and no facts are averred by which it can be made operative as against Spalding, in whose name it is drawn, or Hanscom or Montgnile, in whose favor it is made. 3d, that the facts stated in the indictment do not constitute any public offense 4th, that the facts stated do not constitute forgery. He, therefore, prays that the demurrer be allowed, the indictment dismissed and defendant discharged. Argument on the demurrer will probably be heard some time next week.

Political.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Full returns of the Democratic primary election are not yet in, but enough to show that Mannex and Brady, for the regular wing, have beaten their reform opponents at all points. Notwithstanding trouble the election passed off without disturbance of a serious nature.

Mortuary Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—During the week 103 deaths were registered against 91 the previous week. Diphtheria seems to have taken a fresh start there being 19 deaths from that disease against 7 last week. There were three deaths from smallpox during the week and one new case reported, besides 11 new cases among the quarantined Chinese passengers on the steamer Arizona, who were taken to the pest house.

A Gay Lieutenant Absconds.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Lieut. W. W. Fleming, of the Twelfth U. S. Infantry, quartermaster and commissary at Alcatraz, obtained leave of absence May 5th for ten days. He took the overland train. Immediately after his departure the military authorities ascertained that he had borrowed all the money he could obtain from his friends and had sold his pay for the current month to several parties. Examination showed that the prison fund and personal fund, amounting to about $2,200, intrusted to him was missing. Other sums he had variously obtained, probably swelling the total amount to $5,000. He was arrested at Laramie last Friday and is now on his way back.

Pinney Mollifies his Charges.

Pinney now says his published statement was written some six months ago, when things looked differently from the present aspect and was not intended for publication. So far as the gravity of the charges against Sargent, Gorham, Page and Carr was concerned he had no retraction to make. He thought perhaps Sargent had drifted into his position from being in the company of his fellow politicians. He assumes to know nothing of Isaiah Hanscom and the management of the department at Washington, and that the transactions of the Hanscom family at Mare Island while he was clerk there were all regular.

Trying the Bear Game.

A number of prominent brokers of the big board met yesterday afternoon to concert measures to revive the confidence of the people and ameliorate the demoralized state of the stock market. A proposition was made to close the board, but was not determined upon. A committee was appointed to visit the Bank of California, Nevada Bank, Anglo-California and London and San Francisco banks, and request those institutions to stand in with the brokers in assisting to protect holders of stocks, or the brokers would refuse to sustain their customers. It was also determined to issue an address to the people upon the subject of paying assessments. Resolutions were adopted that the practice of one broker loaning stocks to another be discontenanced, and that no more such transactions take place between members of the board; that no more "informal sessions" be allowed, but that all sessions between regular sessions of the board be presided over by the caller, and that all sales be recorded.

On Waiting Orders.

A portion of the Russian fleet came down from Mare Island yesterday. The officers profess ignorance as to their time of leaving this port, but admit they have been under waiting orders some time. It is thought tonight they will begin coaling to-morrow.

California Land Matters.

SACRAMENTO, May 12.—A remarkable and important report by the State land commission has been presented to the Governor, and will appear in full in the Record Union to morrow. It is the result of an investigation of the commission into titles of the State to public lands, and how they have been issued, and shows that the grossest frauds have been perpetrated by the dummy system of making application for State lands by means of which a number of speculators have possessed themselves of thousands of acres of the State domain, and that too with the knowledge and at least passive concurrence of the State officers.

Russian Fleet at Vallejo.

VALLEJO, May 12.—This morning the Russian fleet have received orders to proceed immediately to San Francisco. All of them begun to get ready, but shortly after, another order was received countermanding the first as to all vessels excepting the Vladrick. She started for the city under steam at noon. Russian officers think some other vessels of the fleet will be ordered to San Francisco to morrow or next day.

The Turf.

SAN JOSE, May 12.—A good attendance at Dreary Park to witness the race between Goldsmith Maid and Rarus. The weather was unfavorable, the wind blowing fiercely most of the time. The horses started at 3 15, the Maid leading and winning the heat in 1 20½ by a length. Second heat—Maid shot out like a streak of greased lightning, leaving Rarus several lengths in the rear. The quarter was made in 33½, one-half in 1 07, and heat in 2 16½, the fastest time ever made in the State, beating Occident's time by half a second. The third heat was won easily by the Maid in 2:19½. But for the wind it is believed the Maid could have trotted in 2.14.

Died of his Wounds.

Platt Wilson, who was accidentally shot in the arm while out hunting two weeks ago, died this morning.

Meeting of Farmers.

STOCKTON, May 12.—About 150 farmers met at the court house this afternoon for the purpose of taking some action relative to the unequal and unjust burden imposed upon farming interests in the taxation of growing crops. A resolution was unanimously adopted protesting against this unequal taxation as unjust and contrary to section 12 article 12 of the constitution, which declares that taxation shall be equal throughout the State.

A War of Corporations Ended.

STOCKTON, May 12.—The final settlement of the controversy between the city of Stockton vs Stockton and Visalia Railroad corporation was reached this evening, eighteen $1,000 bonds of the original $300,000 being canceled and returned to the city. The $200,000 bonds issued by San Joaquin county to the Stockton and Visalia Railroad was also compromised on the same basis

The Pacific Threshing Machine Company of Salem was organized in October, 1876. Besides Pelton's horsepowers and separators, it also makes other agricultural implements. The wood used is of Oregon growth and the castings are of Oregon iron. The company's foundry is at Gervais. It is confidently stated that these machines are not excelled in any respect whatever by any made elsewhere. How important an enterprise this is will be appreciated when it is recollected what a vast number of threshers are yearly imported into Oregon.

It is reported that salmon is the medium of exchange in Astoria. When an Astorian wishes to take his sweetness to be theater, he catches a full grown salmon and hands it to the poorkeeper as his fare. This is the story, but we believe it to be a fish story.

New York Freight and Markets.

NEW YORK, May 12.—California freight markets rather quiet to day and the fact that the reason for activity is at a close is very apparent.
